On June 19th the first one-day Lovers' Academy Program offered in Texas will be held from 8:30am to 6pm at the Live Oaks Resort in Washington, Texas promising the $130.00 couples registration can save marriages, and revitalize relationships while laughing and learning in a unique new way.

The authors of “Reviving Relationships Through Orgasm Mastership” have been doing their blend of stand-up comedy and stunning visual presentations nationally the last five years to conventions, groups, resorts and cruises. They designed their one-day Lovers' Academy program to save marriages, deepen intimacy, and reignite passion, using comedy and entertainment with amazing videos and wonderful graphics, to teach couples the secrets of keeping their relationships alive and vibrant throughout the many stages of a lifetime. Their book is included with the program covering topics such as the 12 kinds of orgasms women can enjoy and the six varieties available to men. Presenter James Thomsen starts the eight hour program by stating “laughter is more intimate than sex” and immediately goes into a stand-up comic routine. He explains “family and couples relationships are often comic and ironic, as parents can attest, but at some point we stop laughing and enjoying the show and intimacy slips away”. “Restoring laughter builds trust, tolerance, and love” he asserts and now he guarantees couples who attend the only program offered in Texas this year will agree or he will refund their money. After twenty years of teaching programs in New York, usually with topics related to Safety, EMS, Fire Departments, Schools and other programs, Thomsen moved to Key West and renewed a youthful dream of doing stand-up comedy and writing. It was there where he had a chance meeting at a writers group with Dr. John Perry PhD., who had started a sexual revolution with his 1981 NY Times Bestseller "The G Spot". Perry took interest in Thomsen's ten years of teaching Couples Workshops, Tantra Seminars, and Programs and inspired three years of sex research for a book a book called "Orgasm Mastership".

In 2008 Thomsen, and partner Cindy Woolf, redesigned the program format they call "entertainment education" which blends comedy, stunning visuals, up-close demonstrations with real models, hypnosis and presentations. This proprietary new experience can actually alter audience time perception so that eight hours seems and feels like 90 minutes.

They promise there is nothing else like this one-day intensive and fun seminar/workshop for couples and singles to learn, enjoy and master advanced physical, mental, emotional, sexual knowledge, techniques and skills to preserve, enhance, heal, and expand their relationship quality. These couples, with new found intimacy, solidity and joy beyond imagination, often become the envy of others as they give rebirth to passion, love, trust and laughter for a lifetime of joy and security. The cost of the program is $130.00 per couple or $85.00 for singles. The information and registration website is www.smilingcloud.com.
